LEADERSHIP & MANAGEMENT DEVELOPMENT COURSES

Leadership and management are two vital qualities in any effective organization. Little that is worthwhile can be achieved without effective leadership and management. There is clearly a requirement for future leaders to have a better understanding of their field of endeavour.

Our leadership programmes are carried out in collaboration with our partner institutions within and outside the UK. Our consultants also design bespoke courses to suit our clients' needs for ten or more participants. Furthermore, we also organise in-house training delivered at clients' facility. These trainings are intended for large number of junior staff, supervisors and junior managers.

TECHNICAL/CERTIFICATION TRAINING AND CONSULTANCY SERVICES

Fig. 1: Layout of Power Plant Monitoring & Control Training Facility

Summit School of Leadership and Management (UK) Ltd specialises in the delivery of technical training and consultancy services globally. Our range of services includes:

- Design and Construction of Technical Training Centres
- Technical Training
- Educational Consultancy Services

We work with our clients to design, construct, equip and operate large scale training facilities and assisting the locals to gain experience and run sustainable operations.

We partner with leading training providers to design courses suitable for training in the Oil & Gas, Power, Manufacturing, Agriculture and Marine Engineering industries. Some of our partners have over 20 years experience in technical training with state-of-the-art technical training equipment and facilities. These courses which range from 1 week (short courses) to 2 years are mainly for the technical development of client's workforce to fill the skills gap in the above mentioned industries.
